

ITHIKOS 2017

In the current scenario of modern society, we see a multiplicity of words and terms being thrown around like success, power, wealth and money. We see exploitation and use of loopholes to for personal gain without a sense of remorse or guilt. This is where ethics and principles come in to the picture. And this is what this seminar focused on.

The seminar began with a speech from Rev. Dr. Thampi, who delivered the keynote speech for this seminar. Dr. Thampi highlighted the meaning of what ethics are and how they play an important role in the development of an individual into a fine human being. Following the inauguration was the first technical session on the agenda lead by Ms. Stella Veigas. The second technical session began with two alumni, Mr. Zubair Pradhan and Mr. Shashank, addressing the gathering. As young entrepreneurs, both of them connected with the audience. The final session of the day, a panel discussion on the topic, "Is success compatible with a firm commitment to success?" was conducted.

At the end, each one had a different but somewhat similar stance on ethics. They felt that as important as ethics are so is success and finding that crucial balance is what can either make or break a business.
