

KALOTSAV 16'
7th, 8th & 9th July, 2016

Kalotsav 16', the much awaited event for the students of SJCC. The enthusiasm and zeal had lit the faces of the students like a ball of inferno. Every year, this 3-day occasion is celebrated just like any other festival, this gives students the platform to show case their talents and makes it easier to hunt the diamonds and the precious gems to represent the college in further fests.

Each day of the 'mega festival' had a theme, to which all the classes had to adhere to, for gathering points. The theme for the day 1 of Kalotsav was 'ComicCon'. The students took great pride in mixing and matching with what they had to coincide with the dressing of that nature. The rudiment was with the Icebreaker event, where all the classes sweat their way to portray their uniqueness in a collective manner of unity with the class.

Day 2 themed the ethnic day, was a melting pot of bright colors to the eye. The sight of girls flaunting their fashion sense with their clothing and the boys reveal their style with the attitude was like no other. Many events like western dance, singing and so on were enjoyed by the masses and brought the participants one step closer to their passion.

The Icebreaker which kicked off the fest involved participation from all the classes. Students were given 5 minutes to showcase their skills on stage and made the most of the limelight with an array of dance routines, dialogues from popular movies, keeping in mind the theme, and skits which left the audience in splits.

Treasure hunt participants were sent on a mad race around Brigade Road and nearby areas looking to find clues faster than the rest of the teams to reach their final destination. Western Acoustics saw group, solo and duet performances , All Styles , a crowd puller had students face off in a showcase round followed by a knockout round and DJ Wars with equal appeal to the crowd saw students groove to music played by participants using their own laptops and equipment.

Events like collage, face-painting ,photography ,cartooning ,thermocool carving , sketching , painting , t-shirt designing and wealth out of waste provided students with the opportunity to showcase their creativity. Classical and Western dance participants who took to the main stage entertained and awed students.

Rodeo was the theme for the last day which made all the students engage in a rather yee-haw fashion. The joyous celebration came to end with the last event of the ‘Mega Festival’, all styles, where the crowd gathered for breathtaking dances by the participants.
